FIRST HOP OF SEASON

The golf links and tennis courts of the Point Judith Country Club were never so attractive as now, and plans are under way for the annual lawn tennis tournament in August.

All signs point to one of the most famous seasons in polo since its introduction here. William A. Hasard, secretary of the American Polo Association, has sent out a strong appeal to all prominent exponents of the sport to come to Narragansett this season. Championship matches will be played as well as apecial events for the low goal men. The polo season opens on July 17.

Casino opened its doors for the summer to-day and a number of luncheon parties were given on the terrace. To-night the first hop of the season called together a large assemblage of the summer colony. Several dinners were given before the hop in the Casino restaurant.

Many guests arrived at the various hotels to-day from all parts of New England, New York and elsewhere, some to stay over the Fourth, others for a longer visit or for the entire season. Naturally, with the appearance of typical summer weather the bathing beach became a centre of attraction. Indeed, the Sherry bathing pavillon was a social clearing house at the fashion-
